

Unauthorized Third Party Distribution

Overview:

Boost Mobile utilizes a wholesale distribution model, in which retail locations are authorized to purchase products from a Boost Mobile distributor. Each distributor is assigned a specific territory and will prospect, contact and work directly with retailers within their assigned territory.

Unauthorized Third Party Distribution

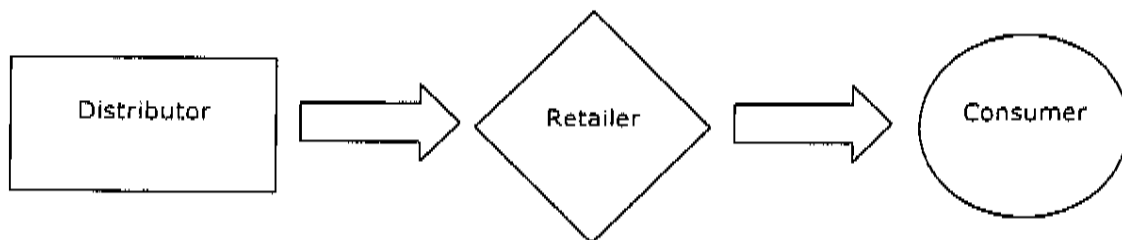

Boost Mobile does NOT support any type of third party distribution other than the wholesale distribution model described above. Only retail locations purchasing Boost Mobile handsets and/or airtime from an authorized distributor may sell Boost Mobile products to the end consumer.

As stated in attachment I of the Boost Mobile Distribution Agreement:
